

THE ULTIMATE MILITARY GIFT GUIDE 2022

Military.com | By Blake Stilwell

If you're looking to support veteran-owned businesses, there's no better way than buying from them -- that's why we put together this handy military gift guide. If you find a business or product you love, telling your friends about it runs a close second.

Finding funding is the No. 1 barrier to creating or growing any successful business. The Federal Reserve Bank and U.S. Small Business Administration say that veterans have an even harder time accessing such capital.

This is particularly distressing since veteran-owned businesses employ almost four million Americans, many of them fellow vets. This military gift guide is designed to help keep their businesses going and keep veterans at work. It is packed with military gifts by veterans that are perfect for veterans, military members and their families.

All of these businesses are either truly unique or have really unique offerings and show how diverse the military community can be. There really is something here for everyone.

Wiley X

Many service members who have deployed to the desert know Wiley X makes quality sunglasses that are polarized, shatterproof and often meet ballistic safety standards. What you may not know is that Wiley X is a veteran-founded and family-run company and has been serving vets and service members for more than 30 years.
